

Session 7 Teaching Aid

Victor and his family live in Nigeria. They want to help global workers serve Jesus around the world. Each month, they send money to a family who is working with an unreached people group.

One summer, Victor heard about a translation project. Workers were translating the Bible into the language of a people group who did not have God's word yet.

Victor and his sister helped do jobs for their friends and neighbors to raise extra money to help with the project.

Session 7 Teaching Aid

Amira and her family are from Pakistan. They know that God invites every follower of Jesus to be a part of His big story.

Amira helps her mother tell stories about what God is doing around the world in her children's class.

Amira's father and big brother lead a Bible study on God's love for the world with the adults in their church.

Whenever they pray for unreached peoples or invite neighbors who do not know Jesus to have dinner with them, Amira's family always includes their friends from church, too.

Session 7 Teaching Aid

Arianna and her family live in Peru. They learned about a country in the Middle East where there were no churches.

Arianna prayed that God would send believers there to share about Jesus. As she prayed, she knew that one day God would send her. Arianna told her family. Together they started learning Arabic. Arianna and her whole family moved to the Middle East as global workers.

Sung Min and his family live in South Korea. They know that God uses prayer to change the world. They spend time every week praying for the unreached peoples they are learning about. Sung Min's mom teaches them about where each people group lives and what they believe. Sometimes, they play a game that children in that people group would play.
